Art Careers

Objective: You will research and learn about the different career choices available for artists in today's society.

You will have to turn in a Research Paper and bibliography that meet the following criteria:

1. Your paper must research at least 4 different careers. This research should include what the job entails, the type of education/training needed, where this education/training could be obtained, what the usual starting salary is, and any other important information you come across.
2. Your paper must be at least 1000 words, 1.5 spaced, 12 pt font.
3. You must write an abstract bibliography on at least 5 sources you used in MLA format.

SAMPLE ABSTRACT

Timsit, M., and N. Bruyere-DeGeyter. "The Function of Anxiety the Structure of Personality in Sports Participation: Use of the Rorschach Test in Comparing Samples of Basketball and Football Players." International Journal of Sport Psychology. 8.2 (1977): 128-139.

Examines the relationship between athletes and the structure of the athletic personality, and more precisely, the importance of the choice of a sport and athletics in general in the development of the personality. Forty 17-21 year olds (20 football players and 20 basketball players) were studied, and the data were compared with those from 17 technical school students of the same age. Data from the sports group were significantly different from the control group: the sports group showed freer expression, more aggression, a more evident state of anxiety, and relatively more effective control mechanisms (kinetic responses). Data for the basketballers were significantly different from those of the footballers: the basketballers had a higher tendency toward static kinetics, and the footballers had a higher anxiety index. Results are discussed in relation to the athletic capacity specifically called for in particular types of sports: location on the court in basketball, and active and direct struggle in football.
